

Nude Night Out a great success

Recently Nude Deli Café at Mooloolaba hosted a “Nude Night Out” as a fund raiser for Bloomhill Cancer Help Centre and their Target 300 Campaign. 80 guests paid $60 per head for a special evening of entertainment and fine dining by the Mooloolaba Waterfront.

Bloomhill Vice President and Target 300 Coordinator, Brett Graham said ‘A Nude Night Out’ was all about good friends getting together to enjoy a first-rate meal and support a worthy cause.

Target 300 is a major fundraising campaign that aims to raise $300,000 to fund the desperately needed extension to the Bloomhill Centre in Buderim to enable it to cater for its constant growing number of members and help more people with cancer and their families throughout the Sunshine Coast region.

In total $5540 was raised with Margo Leyden from Nude Deli Cafe, her daughter Shana and all wait staff donating their time and entire proceeds from the night to Bloomhill.

Margo said, “We were very happy to help out in any way we could and the night was such a great success we are looking at making it an annual event” .
