

Aim

To provide small community-based organisations with the brand power of the big nationals whilst maintaining the advantages of locally owned and developed community support services.

How it works

We believe local communities are the experts when it comes to developing the solutions and resources their community needs. We also know how hard it is to sustain small community groups. For these reasons, we aim to lend our growing profile and infrastructure to smaller local groups under licence. This will provide these organisations with the support and the profile needed to become sustainable and to attract adequate sponsors and funding – whilst remaining owned and directed by their local community.
